Find Full Text

- EndNote can attempt to locate full text files on the Web by using data stored in your references up to 250 records at a time. Once found, EndNote downloads and attaches the files to the references.
- Enter OpenURL Path as Find Full Text preferences, then get the subscribed resources your library has paid for.
- Find Full Text Setting Path:
  - Windows: Edit > Preferences > Find Full Text
  - Mac: Endnote 20 > Preferences > Find Full Text
- Outside the Institution: Configure the VPN or Proxy server first.

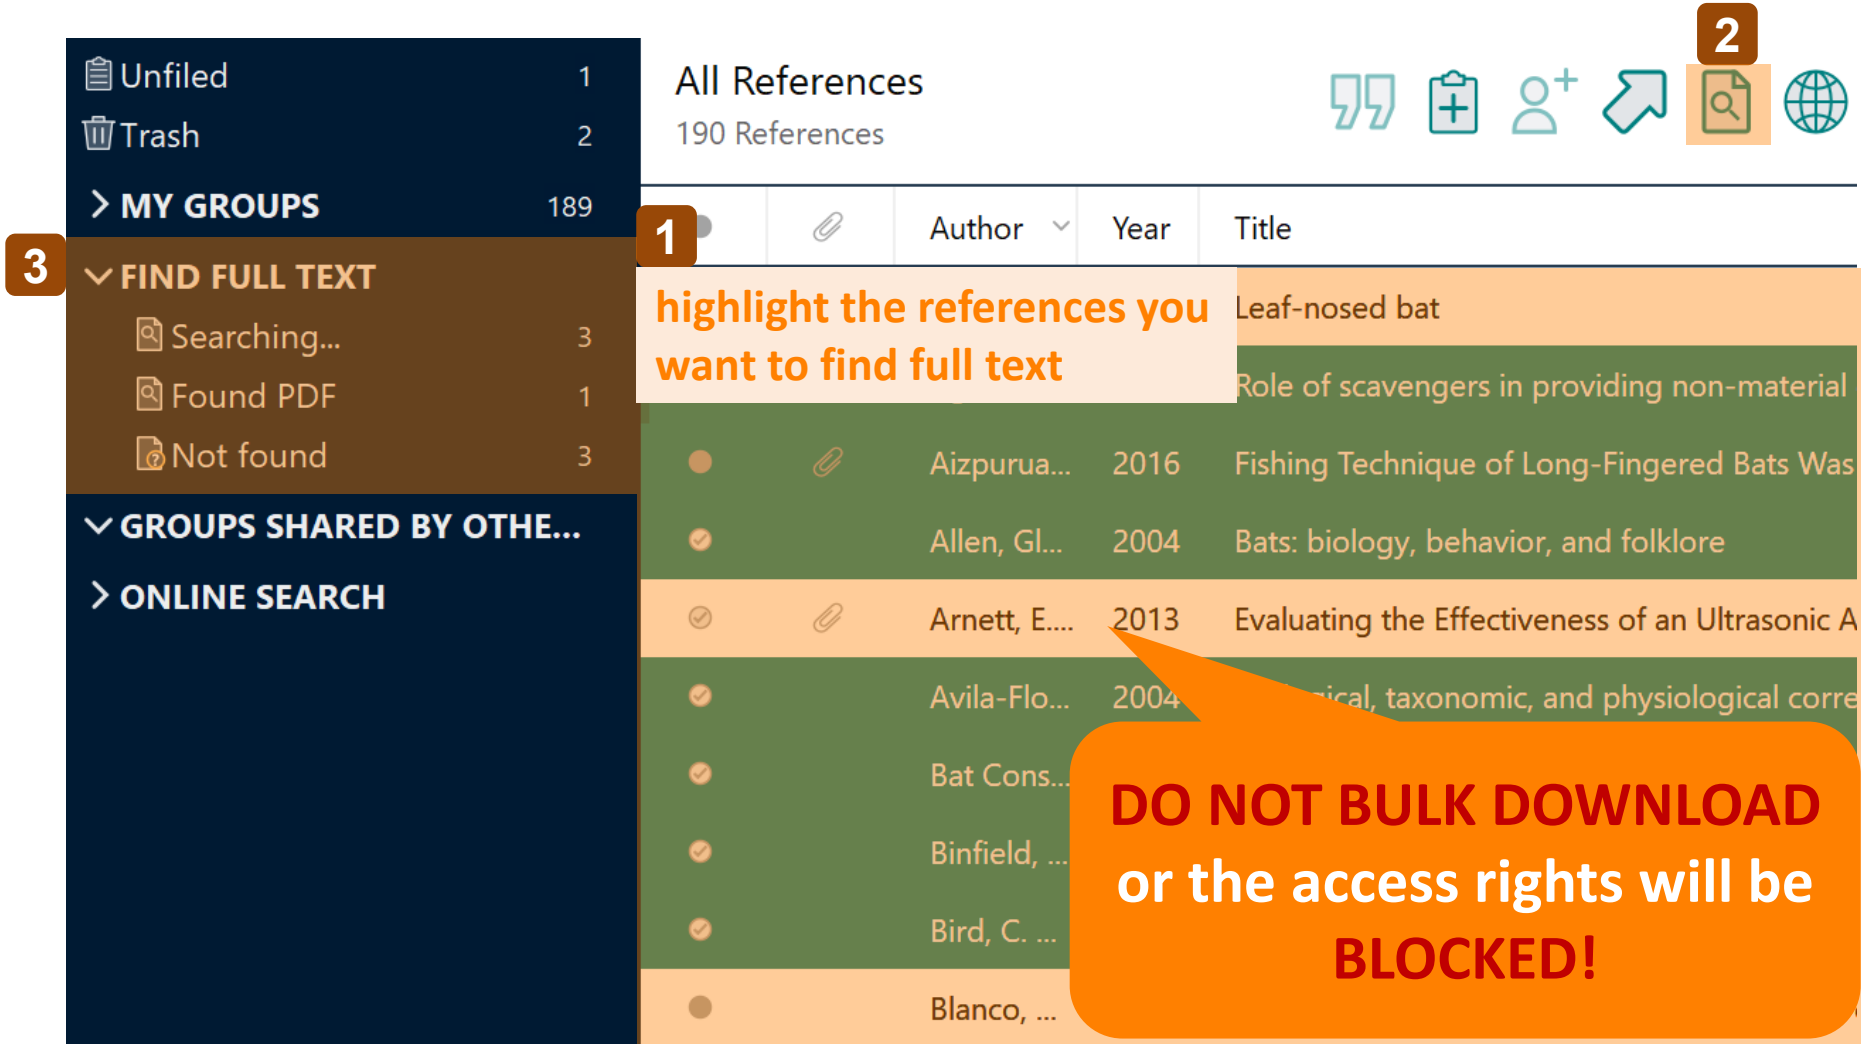
Find Full Text



It’s YOUR turn!

1. Check for Find Full Text setting

- Windows: Edit → Preferences → Find Full Text
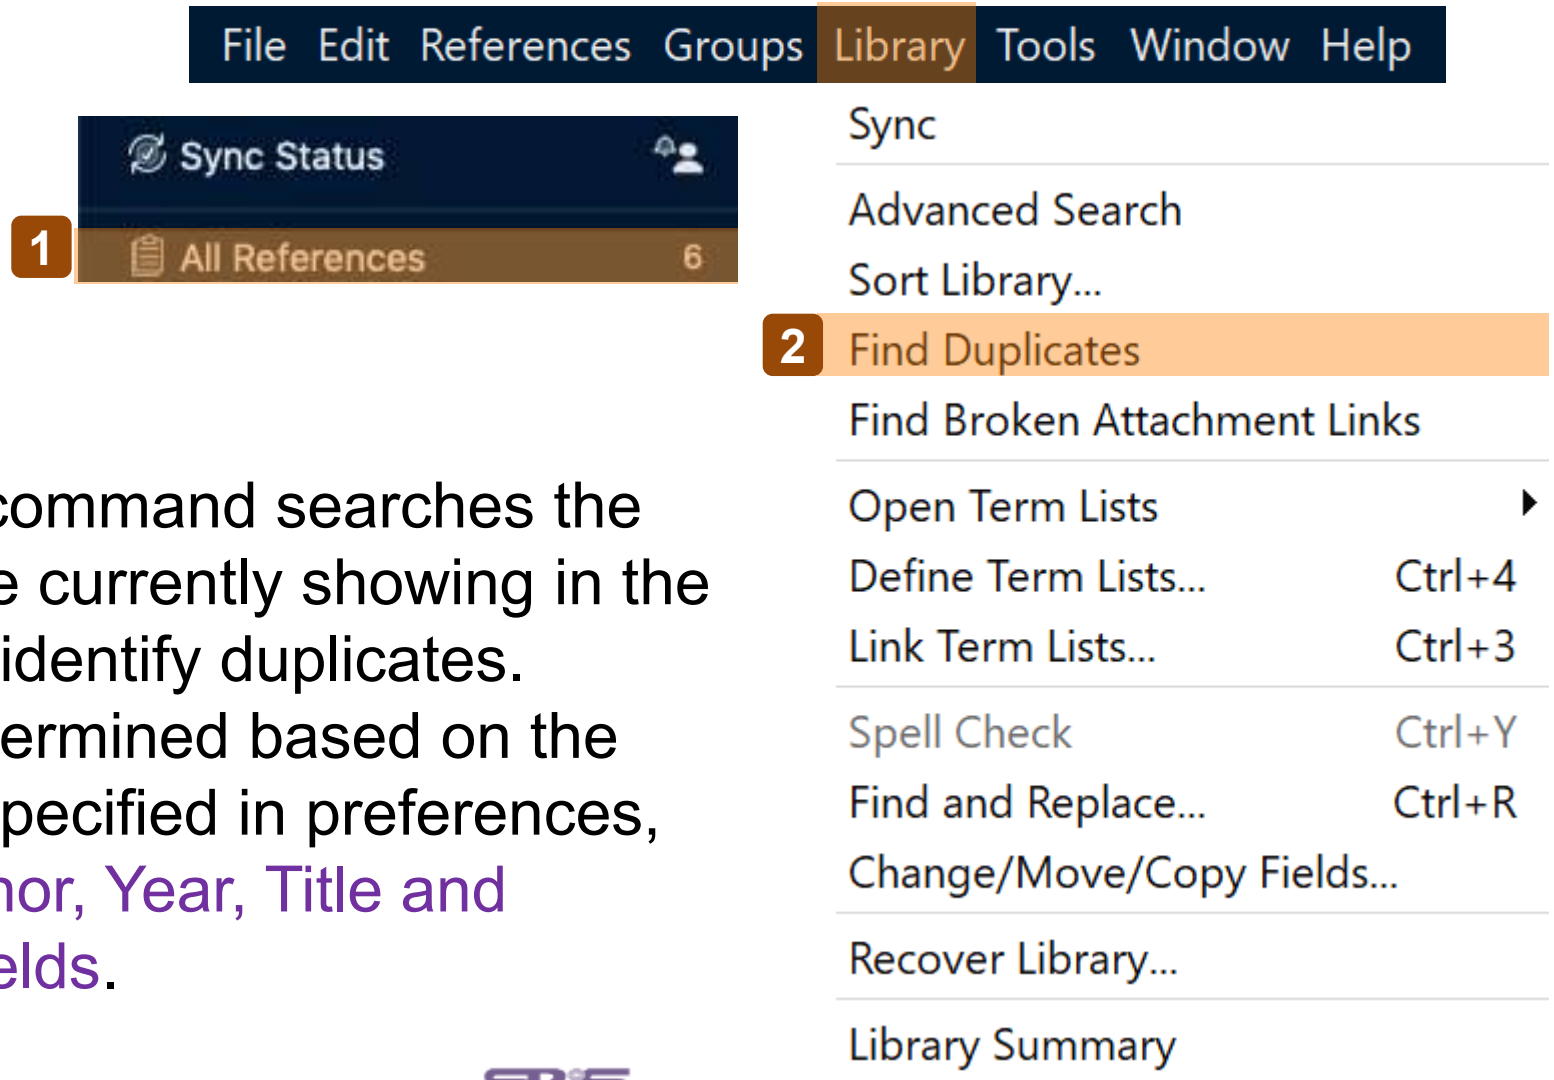
- Mac: EndNote [Version] menu→ Preferences → Find Full Text

2. Use “ Find full text “ function (select references → find full text)
3. If PDFs that have not been found, try OpenURL Link.
4. Download the full text file and then attach the file manually.

Find Duplicates



Find Duplicates command searches the references that are currently showing in the Library window to identify duplicates. Duplicates are determined based on the duplicate criteria specified in preferences, by default are Author, Year, Title and Reference Type fields.

Introduction

Citation-Quotation

According to traditional Chinese medicine, the pericardial meridian is associated with the pain or fullness in the chest, palpitations, depression, restlessness, manic or depressive disorders, nausea or vomiting, hiccups, gastric pain, and distension in the upper abdomen (Bai and Baron, 2001). Since the parasympathetic modulation of both heart and gut is largely mediated by the vagus nerve, and since vagal stimulation of the gut can result in increased peristalsis while the vagal stimulation of the heart can result in decreased heart rate (Guyton and Hall, 1996), it is speculated that to some extent the pericardium meridian might be associated with the autonomic nervous modulation of the subject.

Acupuncture or acupressure at the Neiguan (P6) point, the most frequently used acupoint in the pericardium meridian, has been shown to lessen nausea and vomiting (Dundee et al., 1987, 1988, 1989a and b; Ho et al., 1989; De Aloysio and Penacchioni, 1992; Belluomini et al., 1994; Fan et al., 1997; Harmon et al., 1998). Morrow et al. (1992; Morrow et al., 1999) we related to autonomic nervous activity speculated that the autonomic nervous activity might be changed P6 point was performed.

Heart rate variability analysis is a useful non-invasive method for the assessment of autonomic nervous modulation of heart rate. Some indices are suggested vagal modulation, and the restoration of vagal
