Cai, J. H., et al. (2020). "A Case Series of Children With 2019 Novel Coronavirus Infection: Clinical and Epidemiological Features." Clinical Infectious Diseases 71(6): 1547-1551.

We first described the 2019 novel coronavirus infection in 10 children occurring in areas other than Wuhan. The coronavirus diseases in children are usually mild and epidemiological exposure is a key clue to recognize pediatric case. Prolonged virus shedding is observed in respiratory tract and feces at the conval

Introduction

According to traditional Chinese medicine, the pericardial meridian is associated with the pain or fullness in the chest, palpitations, depression, restlessness, manic or depressive disorders, nausea or vomiting, hiccups, gastric pain, and distension in the upper abdomen (Bai and Baron, 2001). Since the parasympathetic modulation of both heart and gut is largely mediated by the vagus nerve, and since vagal stimulation of the gut can result in increased peristalsis while the vagal stimulation of the heart can result in decreased heart rate (Guyton and Hall, 1996), it is speculated that to some extent the pericardium meridian might be associated with the autonomic nervous modulation of the subject.

Acupuncture or acupressure at the Neiguan (P6) point, the most frequently used acupoint in the pericardium meridian, has been shown to lessen nausea and vomiting (Dundee et al., 1987, 1988, 1989a and b; Ho et al., 1989; De Aloysio and Penacchioni, 1992; Belluomini et al., 1994; Fan et al., 1997; Harmon et al., 2000; [illegible] related to autonomic nervous activity (Morrow et al., 1992; Morrow et al., 1999), we speculated that the autonomic nervous activity might be changed when acupuncture at the P6 point was performed.

Heart rate variability analysis is a useful non-invasive method for the assessment of autonomic nervous modulation of heart rate. Some diseases are associated with depressed vagal modulation, and the restoration of vagal [illegible]

WHY?

- ☐To avoid plagiarism
- ☐To help researchers keep track of the sources cited for their written material
- ☐To give readers a framework of how the writers' arguments were formed
